Reading is like a series of trailblazing,
An uncharted territory to be explored-
It exists to broaden your sight-
It's there to provide an alternative escapism of life-
And in those times you're marooned,
When you're holding your last strain,
The piece of tranquility of reading awaits your reclaim.

Reading is like solving a puzzle,
An array of conundrums to be put to consideration-
It's a maze to be countered-
It's a legendary lore to be told-
And even if you're overwhelmed,
And found yourself going in circles,
The full picture of the lore shall reveal itself as you go...
