Reading is like a gentle breeze,
Sometimes it lifts, sometimes it may freeze.
It flows naturally for some,
Yet for others, it seems a treasure waiting to be won.

For some, reading is like a cherished hobby,
While for others, a challenge that's not so easy.
But with passion and a willing heart,
The journey begins, a wondrous art.

Though reading may feel tough and steep,
Pour your soul into it, and the rewards you'll reap.
For in each page turned and story spun,
The magic of reading has just begun.
